

University Centre Colchester (UCC)

Staff Profile

Name:	Bill Martin
Job title/role:	Head of School of Construction and Engineering
Subjects taught/administrative responsibilities:	Construction Management; Construction Technology; Surveying; Construction Mathematics; Work Based Project
Qualifications and Membership of Professional bodies:	BSc (Hons) Civil Engineering, University of Manchester Certificate in Education, Suffolk College MSc Civil Engineering, University of Greenwich TDLB D32/D33 Assessor, Suffolk College V1 Internal Verifier, Colchester Institute Bill is a member of the Chartered Institute of Highways and Transportation and an incorporated member of the Chartered Institute of Building.
Experience in Education:	Before becoming Head of the School, Bill taught construction modules at University Centre Colchester. He has also lectured at Suffolk College. Bill's expertise in his subject, combined with his academic leadership in Higher Education, have made him a sought-after external examiner, verifier, and commercial advisor. He is an external examiner at the University College of Estate Management, at London South Bank University College, and for Pearson's BTEC Higher National programmes. He is also a Pearson BTEC Standards Verifier for Level 2 Construction. Bill is a member of the Chartered Institute of Building's (CIOB) Accreditation Panel and the CIOB's Educational Framework Steering Group.
Biography and personal interests:	Bill is interested in the application of technology to construction materials and processes. He is currently working with the Chartered Institute of Building on the renewal of its educational framework. He still manages to play squash at club level. Live music remains a passion, either at gigs or festivals, and he has over 500 vinyl LPs!