

University Centre Colchester (UCC)

Staff Profile

Name:	Charlie Fouracres
Job title/role:	Charlie is the course leader for the BA (Hons) Early Years degree. She also contributes to other programmes within the School of Education.
Subjects taught/administrative responsibilities:	She teaches the following modules: Principles of Teaching and Learning; Developing and Supporting Learning, Assessment; Managing Behaviour; Learning Theories; Developing Resources; Wider Professional Practice; Research; SEN; Child Development; Advocacy, Level 3 Award in Education and Training.
Qualifications and Membership of Professional bodies:	BA (Hons) Early Years, University Centre Colchester PGCE, University Centre Colchester QTLS, University Centre Colchester
Experience in Education:	Charlie has completed all her qualifications at UCC, benefiting from the personalised learning experience as a mature student after a break from Education to raise a family.
Biography and personal interests:	Her background is in Early Years Education, having worked in Nurseries, Primary Schools, Sure Start Centres and supporting roles with the NHS in the community. Previous to her current teaching role, she ran a successful childcare provision before returning to her teaching roots here at University Centre Colchester. Her educational expertise includes observations and feedback, lesson planning and supporting trainees with lesson preparation processes.
Professional practice / research interests:	Charlie's work has been awarded three outstanding teaching grades by Ofsted during institutional inspections. She is currently completing her MA in Education which focuses on the connection between student feedback and improving the quality of educational provision for students.