What will the course help me to do?

This course is aimed at students who are currently working at entry level and have additional support needs. It is designed to enable earners to make independent choices, develop their personal and social skills and to communicate effectively.

Delivery is through a learner centred approach involving a wide range of activities. This includes a high volume of practical based sessions, learning in the community and small group work.

What to expect...

- You will be working with different people
- You will be working on varied tasks and subjects
- You will be encouraged to challenge yourself
- You will learn to solve problems in new ways
