

ADULT SKILLS CENTRE

Skills for Working in Construction

The construction industry offers many varied roles. The industry standard requires anyone working on a construction site to have a CITB CSCS card. This course will enable learners to meet this requirement.

The following units are covered:

- Working in construction and building technologies
- Health and safety in the workplace
- Principles of building and construction, information and communication
- Health and safety in a constructive environment

Successful completion of this course, can support an application for the Construction Industry Training Board Labourer (green) Card. Conditions apply.
